12-4-1931

Flor-Ala December 12, 1931

University of North Alabama

Follow this and additional works at: https://ir.una.edu/florala

Recommended Citation
University of North Alabama. (1931). Flor-Ala December 12, 1931. Retrieved from https://ir.una.edu/florala/1

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the Archives at UNA Scholarly Repository. It has been accepted for inclusion in Flor-Ala by an authorized administrator of UNA Scholarly Repository. For more information, please contact jpatel1@una.edu.
CUNNINGHAM IS KNOWN ELSEWHERE

It is an interesting fact to think that all University has direct touch with nearly all countries. Dr. Cunningham, as we do not know, is a graduate of the University of North Carolina, and is the first Jemison professor of our own department, whose name is a known in the industries of the state.

Cunningham will have an ar- inger in the January number of the St. Regis Bulletin. He will also have a con- non in the 1910 Year Book of Education.

ISSUES BULLETIN FOR FORMER MEMBERS

The Bulletin which is the re- of the St. Regis Bulletin, has been so far, is an interesting fact.

This bulletin which is the re- of the St. Regis Bulletin, has been so far, is an interesting fact.

The Bulletin which is the re- of the St. Regis Bulletin, has been so far, is an interesting fact.

The Bulletin which is the re- of the St. Regis Bulletin, has been so far, is an interesting fact.
The Flor-Ala
Published by Florence State Teachers College at Florence, Alabama.
Entered at post office at Florence, Ala., as second class matter, March 3, 1927.

To every living thing there is a time for its passing, a time to be born and a time to die, a time to plant and a time to pluck up what we have planted. This is a fact which we know only too well. When the season of autumn comes, the end of its beauty is at hand. The trees, which have been so lovely a thing, now seem to be losing their beauty. The leaves on the trees are changing from green to red and orange, and the colors of nature are everywhere to be seen. The beauty of the gorgeously colored woods one returns to love and cherish. The not of color to be found in our woods at autumn appeals to me. The woods are filled with the scent of fallen leaves and the sound of the rustling of the leaves on the ground. The beauty of nature is everywhere to be seen.

The term "The Flor-Ala" is a publication of the students of Florence State Teachers College. It is published weekly during the school year and biweekly during the summer months.

Autumn On Our Campus

Autumn this year has been alluringly lovely. It has been exhilarating. The leaves have turned from green to red and orange, and the beauty of nature is everywhere to be seen. The trees, which have been so lovely a thing, now seem to be losing their beauty. The leaves on the trees are changing from green to red and orange, and the colors of nature are everywhere to be seen. The beauty of the gorgeously colored woods one returns to love and cherish. The not of color to be found in our woods at autumn appeals to me. The woods are filled with the scent of fallen leaves and the sound of the rustling of the leaves on the ground. The beauty of nature is everywhere to be seen.

The Flor-Ala

Published by Florence State Teachers College at Florence, Alabama.
Entered at post office at Florence, Ala., as second class matter, March 3, 1927.

To every living thing there is a time for its passing, a time to be born and a time to die, a time to plant and a time to pluck up what we have planted. This is a fact which we know only too well. When the season of autumn comes, the end of its beauty is at hand. The trees, which have been so lovely a thing, now seem to be losing their beauty. The leaves on the trees are changing from green to red and orange, and the colors of nature are everywhere to be seen. The beauty of the gorgeously colored woods one returns to love and cherish. The not of color to be found in our woods at autumn appeals to me. The woods are filled with the scent of fallen leaves and the sound of the rustling of the leaves on the ground. The beauty of nature is everywhere to be seen.

The term "The Flor-Ala" is a publication of the students of Florence State Teachers College. It is published weekly during the school year and biweekly during the summer months.

Autumn On Our Campus

Autumn this year has been alluringly lovely. It has been exhilarating. The leaves have turned from green to red and orange, and the beauty of nature is everywhere to be seen. The trees, which have been so lovely a thing, now seem to be losing their beauty. The leaves on the trees are changing from green to red and orange, and the colors of nature are everywhere to be seen. The beauty of the gorgeously colored woods one returns to love and cherish. The not of color to be found in our woods at autumn appeals to me. The woods are filled with the scent of fallen leaves and the sound of the rustling of the leaves on the ground. The beauty of nature is everywhere to be seen.

The term "The Flor-Ala" is a publication of the students of Florence State Teachers College. It is published weekly during the school year and biweekly during the summer months.

The Flor-Ala

Published by Florence State Teachers College at Florence, Alabama.
Entered at post office at Florence, Ala., as second class matter, March 3, 1927.

To every living thing there is a time for its passing, a time to be born and a time to die, a time to plant and a time to pluck up what we have planted. This is a fact which we know only too well. When the season of autumn comes, the end of its beauty is at hand. The trees, which have been so lovely a thing, now seem to be losing their beauty. The leaves on the trees are changing from green to red and orange, and the colors of nature are everywhere to be seen. The beauty of the gorgeously colored woods one returns to love and cherish. The not of color to be found in our woods at autumn appeals to me. The woods are filled with the scent of fallen leaves and the sound of the rustling of the leaves on the ground. The beauty of nature is everywhere to be seen.

The term "The Flor-Ala" is a publication of the students of Florence State Teachers College. It is published weekly during the school year and biweekly during the summer months.

Autumn On Our Campus

Autumn this year has been alluringly lovely. It has been exhilarating. The leaves have turned from green to red and orange, and the beauty of nature is everywhere to be seen. The trees, which have been so lovely a thing, now seem to be losing their beauty. The leaves on the trees are changing from green to red and orange, and the colors of nature are everywhere to be seen. The beauty of the gorgeously colored woods one returns to love and cherish. The not of color to be found in our woods at autumn appeals to me. The woods are filled with the scent of fallen leaves and the sound of the rustling of the leaves on the ground. The beauty of nature is everywhere to be seen.

The term "The Flor-Ala" is a publication of the students of Florence State Teachers College. It is published weekly during the school year and biweekly during the summer months.

Autumn On Our Campus

Autumn this year has been alluringly lovely. It has been exhilarating. The leaves have turned from green to red and orange, and the beauty of nature is everywhere to be seen. The trees, which have been so lovely a thing, now seem to be losing their beauty. The leaves on the trees are changing from green to red and orange, and the colors of nature are everywhere to be seen. The beauty of the gorgeously colored woods one returns to love and cherish. The not of color to be found in our woods at autumn appeals to me. The woods are filled with the scent of fallen leaves and the sound of the rustling of the leaves on the ground. The beauty of nature is everywhere to be seen.

The term "The Flor-Ala" is a publication of the students of Florence State Teachers College. It is published weekly during the school year and biweekly during the summer months.
Perhaps You Know

"The clubs will come to order." "We shall have the roll call, please." "Alumni" "Here," "Dyersons" "Here," "Patchforders" "Here," "Specials" "Here," "Hikers" "Here," "Interfraternity Relations Club" "Here," "EMC." "Here," "Methodist Student Leagues" "Here." "All right! That's what I call good management of the new business. We are here, you know, to present your activity to the Flor-Ala."

The Athletic Club is studying "Veraclara." Have they good taste? Just look. The favorite biography of Mary Elizabeth Barksdale is "The Americanization of Edward Rob." The favorite picture of Mary Elizabeth Adcock is John Philip Sousa's "The Last Supper." The favorite picture of Marie Elizabeth Adcock was "Van Gogh's Starry Night". The favorite writer of Miriam Burleson is General Pershing, as her favorite poem; "John Anderson, My Friend." The second best thing to wear ... priced so reasonably here!

The Patchforders have invited some famous poets. At a recent meeting, Edna St. Vincent Millay was the sub­ject of the discussion. Miss Millay discussed Miss Millay's life, Mary Elizabeth Adcock reviewed "The King's Hearsth" and Tempo Millay read and discussed some of Miss Millay's sonnets.

The Dyersons have established their superiority in motoring balls. They defeated the Spartans in a single point in the inter-collegiate ball contest. Both teams played good ball, according to Miss Goldberg, referee.

The new freshman club, The Spec­tatarians, under the leadership of Miss Al­len, have been divided into two factions. "Resolved that college shall have absolute Student Govern­ment" was the subject debated in their recent meeting. It is interesting to note that the negative side won.

The Thespis are working on a play which they plan to present as a Lyncean number at Rogersville. Miss Goldberg is directing.

The Hikers' Club has been enjoying breakfast, breakfast buns, and after­noon tea in the tornful decorator's beautiful In­dian Summer weather.

The B. S. U. sent representatives to the Baptist Students Convention held at the University of Alabama October 28-31. Mrs. M. L. Moore, social di­rector of Florence Hall, accompanied the representatives: Marvin Frederick, General Hulsey, Eunice Chiles, and the author of the previous paragraph.

Here's a
Gorgeous Coat
$24.75

An Evening gown of ultrasmartness
$16.75

Here's a
Stunning New Hat
$2.95

The Thespis are planning to present their play at the University of Alabama on October 28-31. Mrs. M. L. Moore, social di­rector of Florence Hall, accompanied the representatives: Marvin Frederick, General Hulsey, Eunice Chiles, and the author of the previous paragraph.

The Dyersons have established their superiority in motoring balls. They defeated the Spartans in a single point in the inter-collegiate ball contest. Both teams played good ball, according to Miss Goldberg, referee.

The new freshman club, The Spec­tatarians, under the leadership of Miss Al­len, have been divided into two factions. "Resolved that college shall have absolute Student Govern­ment" was the subject debated in their recent meeting. It is interesting to note that the negative side won.

The Thespis are working on a play which they plan to present as a Lyncean number at Rogersville. Miss Goldberg is directing.

The Hikers' Club has been enjoying breakfast, breakfast buns, and after­noon tea in the tornful decorator's beautiful In­dian Summer weather.

The B. S. U. sent representatives to the Baptist Students Convention held at the University of Alabama October 28-31. Mrs. M. L. Moore, social di­rector of Florence Hall, accompanied the representatives: Marvin Frederick, General Hulsey, Eunice Chiles, and the author of the previous paragraph.

Here's a
Gorgeous Coat
$24.75

An Evening gown of ultrasmartness
$16.75

Here's a
Stunning New Hat
$2.95

The Thespis are planning to present their play at the University of Alabama on October 28-31. Mrs. M. L. Moore, social di­rector of Florence Hall, accompanied the representatives: Marvin Frederick, General Hulsey, Eunice Chiles, and the author of the previous paragraph.
Alumni News

GREETING

This is a word of commendation to the present student-body and greeting to the alumni. It has been compiled with a determination on the part of the student-body that it shall be sustained throughout all of coming.

HENRY J. WILLINGHAM, President

Alumni Association Officers
The officers of the Florence Alumni Association are: President, William A. Graham; 2d vice-president, Miss Mary Shaw; 3d, and secretary-treasurer, William Miller; 4th, Miss Ruth Little; 5th, Mr. Graham is principal of Brandon High school and may be reached at telephone 406-M; Miss Little is his assistant in the same school.

Miss Shaw is teaching at Coffer High School.

Mr. Miller is a local attorney.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. McKee, who recently moved from Florence to Tuscaloosa, were visitors at the college not long ago. They stated that their son Walter, 29, is now principal of Pine Level Junior High School in Montgomery County, and that Miss Elizabeth McKeef, B. S., 9, is teaching in Tarrant City Junior High School in Jefferson County. Mr. McKee was on time on the faculty of the Florence Teachers College, but for some time has been teaching insurance.

Miss Mary Shepard, B. S., 9, who assisted in the English department of the Teacher States College last spring, is teaching English at Coffee High School, Florence, Alabama. Miss Martha Green, B. S., 9, is also at Coffee.

Toby Miditch, 31, and Roll White, 30, are now teaching at Byrnesville in Colbert County. They gave a successful musical program on November 24. The proceeds are being used in the purchase of musical instruments for the college for those who recently visited the college, that the students might enjoy the performances of the students.

Rex Meyers, B. S., 10, reports that he has been elected to a basket ball team at Crooked Oak, Colbert County, but that he declined the offer. Meyers is enjoying his work in spite of the twelve hours a day he would have to put in to teach.

Martha Porterfield, 31, is teaching in the elementary school of Hamilton, Alabama. She is a graduate of the University of Alabama, Anniston.

Mary Ronis, 31, and Kate Rosen, 31, are teaching in Starkville, Shelby County, Alabama. Both are planning to return to Florence next summer to resume their school work.

Tessory Howell, 21, is principal at Watervale, Alabama. Osteen is sponsoring the first football team and the students give a great account of itself in their recent game played in Florence with Coffee High School.

Mrs. Claude Smither, 31, formerly Miss Anna Forney, who was a member of the P. T. S. C. T. faculty, welcomed November 21. She is now living in Birmingham. Mr. Smither is assistant principal of the city of Montgomery.

Elizabeth Charles, 31, is teaching in the city of Montgomery.

Miss Faison Carmichael, 31, and Joseph Powell, 31, are teaching in the rural elementary schools and are delighted with their work.

A recent story comes to us from Anniston, Alabama, where Geraldine Faison, 31, William Christow, 31, and Clyde Carlisle, 31, are teaching in the same city as the former. Their school is one of the finest in the state of Alabama. In the city of Anniston, the pupils have entered the so-called "Dicken's Christmas Card" and that isn't bad.

Kathleen Leatherwood, 29, is teaching a second year at Old Bethel, B.C. 9, and is looking forward to the coming of this year's students. All of Tommy's matches were close; his opponents keeping him out of the picture for an eye. It was a good game, but a better one.

The newest Alumni baby of which the college is proud is the son of Miss Frances Williamson, 27, spent Thanksgiving holidays at her home in Florence. Miss Williamson, who is now attending the University of Alabama, wrote me a neat social notice from there.

I want THE FLORA-ALA mailed to me at my present address and exclude $1.00 for my subscription.

Watch for Who's Who among our Advertisers in Dec. 18th Flora-Ala.

Southall's Drug Store
Established 1932
COURT STREET, FLORENCE
New Goods for the Holidays
Now Ready for Your Inspection

Alumni News

Perhaps You Know

The Following Are:

・Miss Anna Forney, 31, and Kate Rosen, 31, are teaching in Starkville, Shelby County, Alabama. Both are planning to return to Florence next summer to resume their school work.

・Tessory Howell, 21, is principal at Watervale, Alabama. Osteen is sponsoring the first football team and the students give a great account of itself in their recent game played in Florence with Coffee High School.

・Mrs. Claude Smither, 31, formerly Miss Anna Forney, who was a member of the P. T. S. C. T. faculty, welcomed November 21. She is now living in Birmingham. Mr. Smither is assistant principal of the city of Montgomery.

・Miss Faison Carmichael, 31, and Joseph Powell, 31, are teaching in the rural elementary schools and are delighted with their work.

・A recent story comes to us from Anniston, Alabama, where Geraldine Faison, 31, William Christow, 31, and Clyde Carlisle, 31, are teaching in the same city as the former. Their school is one of the finest in the state of Alabama. In the city of Anniston, the pupils have entered the so-called "Dicken's Christmas Card" and that isn't bad.

・Kathleen Leatherwood, 29, is teaching a second year at Old Bethel, B.C. 9, and is looking forward to the coming of this year's students. All of Tommy's matches were close; his opponents keeping him out of the picture for an eye. It was a good game, but a better one.

・The newest Alumni baby of which the college is proud is the son of Miss Frances Williamson, 27, spent Thanksgiving holidays at her home in Florence. Miss Williamson, who is now attending the University of Alabama, wrote me a neat social notice from there.

We cordially invite students of the State Teachers College to buy their needs at the Merchandise here.

OUR GIFT OF QUALITY

GIFTS OF QUALITY

STERCHI BROS.
INCOGNITO FLORENCE SHEFFIELD TUSCUMBIA

THE S. S. L. STORE

JOE P. MAY, Mgr., "The Merchantable You Want at the Price You Want to Pay."

To See Better
W. R. DROKE

OPTOMETRIST

Properly fitted glasses for...

Your Eyes Are Your Best Friends

First National Bank
Florence, Ala.