Prohibition Subject For Chapel Talk

Representing the Inter-Collegiate Prohibition Association, Miss Ruth Lockman spoke Monday at chapel and gave her audience many facts about which to think in regard to the pres-tent-day effort to abolish alcoholism.

The speaker urged the students to think of this question as a responsibility of their college lives. Told them that they had much of privilege and much of opportunity in being college students, but the privilege and opportunity carried with them more of responsibility.

She then told how, through three great moral forces, industrial and social, the movement ties up with life and makes a contribution toward a better civilization. "Society's battle today," she said, "is against the hang over of former days...against the privilege (or those who put personal desires above social obligation) and the criminal or anti-social group."

The latter, she said, has been stunted and harassed unnecessarily into a student body of which we are proud. Miss Lockman says, that Indians were entered at Columbia University and the

An Appreciation

By Mark Warner

As an appreciation of chairman’s year, Masque Adams, the greatest of our girls, had a surprise for us. She walked into the theater to play Portia. This surprise always gives me a warm feeling. The man who is now known as Portia.

The audience was given a glimpse of the character role of Shylock. The intelligence of this role and the manner in which she portrayed it to us was her recent performance in that role.

A reincarnation of the Shakespeare play, "Othello," was brought to life by Miss Adams. By her actions, her voice, and her interpretation of the role, she demonstrated her skill and her dedication to the art of acting.

The few minutes that she took to portray the character were well spent. Her performance was a testament to her talent and her dedication to the craft of acting.

TEATRE

By Emma Cunningham

The little dog was running around the building. It was a small dog, the size of a cat. It was running around the building, barking loudly.

There was an awful yelp, a loud howl. The dog ran away, and when it was gone, the library was quiet again.

Library Gets New Books

Cecil Jones, a former student of Florence State Teachers College, who is now located at a state college in Wisconsin, recently sent two copies of "The Pill of the Rose" to our library. He sent a letter saying that he had brought them with him on his recent visit to Florence.

Mr. Dyer also reports the addition of two copies of "The Pill of the Rose" to the library. He said that he had brought them with him on his recent visit to Florence.

This is a song of little boys who played with marbles and rubber bands. They had a lot of fun with them. They were very happy when they found them.

Campus Snap Shots

A third copy of "The Pill of the Rose" goes to Mr. Rufus Hibbett of Green Hill, Alabama. He was thanked by Mr. Dyer.

The Campbell Ghost

A couple of interesting things happened at one of the college’s annual events, the annual fall dance. The dance was held on the college’s main campus.

It was a very nice evening, and many students were present. The dance was a great success, and the students had a lot of fun.

The State Teachers College

Florence, Alabama

Established 1872

This college offers a standard, professional, college course leading to graduation at the end of two years with a teacher’s certificate renewable for two years.

Or two-four-year courses leading to the Bachelor’s degree.

Or special courses selected by individual students to meet one’s own needs.

Any three terms make a year’s work. The terms open December 7th, March 14th, April 25th and June 6th.

Miss Zelnicker Goes To Columbia

Miss Grace Zelnicker, head of the music department at the University of Tennessee, will leave Sunday morning for New York, where she plans to do graduate work at Columbia University. Among the interesting relatives Miss Zelnicker is taking with her are her sisters, Maude, Novelle, and Margaret, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Zelnicker, who reside at 246 South Prince Street, Rochester, Minn. Miss Zelnicker is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Zelnicker, Rochester, Minn.

During the first of the Friday night Divine services, the question was asked: "What is love?" A number of the older couples were allowed to participate in dancing. The idea is to allow one couple every hour to dance outdoors for a dance. This is a great social function of the Student Council. The first week-end with her aunt, Miss Elizabeth Jackson, and Mrs. Henry J. Miller of Staunton, Va., were guests for tea. The guest list included: Mrs. Meeks Wright, Blassingame, Bernice Boozer, Margaret Burt of Tuscumbia, and Miss Elizabeth Jackson of Staunton, Va.

Alumni News

H. J. Holcomb, '22, is principal of Colbert County High School. Mr. Holcomb is a graduate of North Alabama. Mr. Sam Sherrod, '20, is principal of the Junior High School of the same department. It is said these two form the nucleus of one of the strongest school faculties in North Alabama.

Wilford Falen, '26, is coach of the Monticello Jordan High School. Mr. Falen has been at this school for three years. During this period his various teams have won several tournaments and have entered in the "big shows" of the state.

Some time ago we stated that Bob Holland, '23, had moved to a new minister. News has come to us that he has moved again to a new church and another minister. Evidently it's becoming a habit with Bob.

Among the short stories receiving recognition from the Birmingham Age-Herald, now publishing short stories of shorter writers who have not yet been noticed:

Thomas Stirling, '20, a former newspaper writer, writes a letter from Fort Myers, Florida, where he is engaged in work both another book.

Elizabeth Felton, '21, is teaching at Parch, Alabama. One of her pets gave her a very thrilling surprise last night. "Every one likes Miss Felton," she easily clasped her hands together. "She doesn't let her pets grow too big."

Laura Jones, '21, is secretary to J. A. Jones, superintendent of education of Walker county.

Fannie M. Cook, '23, is principal of Parnell, Alabama, and Miss Minnie Cook, principal of Defuniak, '23.

Mr. W. A. Threadgill of the Birmingham public school system, was on our campus recently. Mr. Threadgill married Josephine Porter, '24.

Glencore Hicks, '23, writes Dr. Wil
